

Hydrangea Spring Wreath

materials

- 1 - Grapevine Wreath Frame
- 1 - Eucalyptus Garland Strand
- 4 - Blue Purple Faux Hydrangeas
- 1 - Purple Faux Hydrangea
- 1 - White Faux Hydrangea
- 1 - Krylon UV Resistant Clear Spray, Matte Finish
- 1 - Glue Gun and Sticks
- 1 - Wire Cutters

the how-to

1. Lay out all of your floral, greenery, and wreath frame. Spray with UV-resistant spray to protect your craftwork from the sun and outdoor elements. Let dry fully.
 - a. NOTE: Please do this step outside in a well-ventilated area! This spray has a powerful odor and sometimes masks don't protect you enough from inhaling! Always read the instructions on the can before use.
2. Lay your wreath frame on a flat surface. Begin to affix your garland to the wreath frame as you so choose. Don't worry about perfect placement as you will attach it to the frame with glue later.
3. Attach your faux florals. I stick the full stem through the grapevine and bend the stem in the back so it lays flat where I can fluff out the floral to achieve the look I'm going for.
4. Flip the wreath over and trim off all of the stems with the wire cutters. Don't trim them too far into the frame. Leave some stem showing on the back.
5. Flip the wreath back over and begin gluing the garland and florals to the frame. Because grapevine frames sometimes have sections where there aren't a lot of thick branches, do your best to glue the pieces together as best you can.
6. Once the glue is dry, flip the wreath over and glue the excess stems to the frame for added security.
7. Let dry and display!

Did you complete this project? Tag me on Instagram, @helloblondemoments, to share the love!